- In part2-, type of multidimensional items could be in real data type. Specialize related methods of SearchTree interface according to real data type.

- Construct multidimensional items with 3 dimensions as default but write another constructer which takes dimension count as a parameter.

- If the values of new item and tree's item are the same when comparing on any level, move on left branch.